London Officials Expect Developments

Associated Press
Cincinnati, Aug. 9.—Mrs. Kingdon P. Murray, wife of "Piccolo Pete" Murray, held in London, Ont., under indictment for the kidnapping of John S. Labatt, said to-day she had "heard somebody" had confessed at London to the abduction and that her husband and Dave Meisner, serving a fifteen-year sentence for the crime, were likely to be freed.

Mrs. Murray, who has maintained from the time of her husband's arrest that he had nothing to do with the Labatt kidnapping, would not reveal the source of her information. It was believed, however, she referred to numerous reports Michael McCordell, who confessed to the crime a week ago at London, had made Ontario authorities a full confession.

VISITED AT JAIL
"Murray has been held in the London jail for several months, police holding him as an accomplice of Meisner and the third man sought as one of the three actual kidnapers, Albert Peggum of Detroit. Mrs. Murray has visited him at the London jail."

LONDON OFFICIALS INTERESTED

Canada Loses Japan Trade

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Aug. 9.—M. Kinoshito, manager of the business men's party of the Japanese Trade Promotion Association, believes Canada will suffer more than Japan in consequence of the trade controversy in which the two countries are now engaged.
Mr. Kinoshito and his party, eight in number, are on a world tour. They will leave here to-night for Boston.
Canada's imports from Japan were only one-fifth of her exports to that country, Mr. Kinoshito recalled to-day. In view of the Dominion stood to lose more than Japan, he said.

RAIL GREASING TRIAL AT GOLDEN

J. Woods, One of Group of Transients to Be Returned From Calgary to B.C. Town

Canadian Press
Calgary, Aug. 9.—Charged with obstructing a Canadian Pacific train near Golden, B.C., when the rails were greased, John Woods, a transient, arrested in Calgary, will be returned to the British Columbia town for trial.

Woods, who is already serving a twenty-one-day jail sentence for illegal road-riding, appeared before Magistrate H. G. Scott to-day and was remanded to the custody of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. The offense was committed in British Columbia and Magistrate Scott stated he had not the jurisdiction to hear the case here. Woods was charged under the Criminal Code.

ONE SENTENCED

Only one road-rider appeared in court to-day, and he was sentenced to a fine of $10 and costs or ten days in jail.
Authorities stated to-day it would not be necessary to establish a jail camp at Banff to house transients. A site used as a concentration camp during the war years was being considered, but word was received to-day many of the transients sentenced to jail earlier in the month would be released within a few days. DURANT HERE; WILL LECTURE

Famed Author of Works on Philosophy and Civilization to Discuss Progress

Dr. Will Durant, who started out in a church training school to be a Jesuit priest, but became the world's most widely read writer on philosophy, arrived in Victoria this afternoon from Seattle.

He has been vacationing along the coast, motoring with members of his family, after the publication of his first volume of his epochal five-volume work, "The Story of Civilization." He recalled his last visit to Victoria two years ago on his return from Russia when he lectured to 1,200 persons in the City Temple.

With the Durant party was Robert J. Cromie, publisher of the Vancouver Sun, who went to Seattle to accompany the writer to Victoria. This being mostly a vacation tour, Dr. Durant escaped the newspapermen in Seattle. Members of his party recalled that after he had escaped from the Jesuit seminary, he had for a few months been a newspaper reporter in New York City under Arthur Brisbane, until he got going on the line of work that was to bring him fame. His non-fiction work, "The Story of Philosophy," has sold over 500,000 copies and is still going strong.

Local authors are meeting Dr. Durant. This evening at 8.15 o'clock, Dr. Durant is making his only public appearance in Victoria. This will be at 8.15 o'clock at the Empire Theatre when he will lecture on the subject, "Is Progress Real?"

Dr. Durant will leave on the midnight boat for Vancouver, where the (Turn to Page 2, Col. 5)

FOOD PRICES IN GERMANY RISE

Associated Press
Berlin, Aug. 9.—A definite shortage of fats and fruits was described by an authoritative source to-day as a possibility, with a definite shortage of fruits already existing and with vegetable crops in doubt.
The authorities said staples, like bread, grain and meat, were in a good position, but that prices were rising steadily and that the workman was having difficulty getting what he wanted.
Three high Nazi officials were understood to be called to meet Monday to consider the questions of food.

A month ago a combined wheat crop of 731,045,000 bushels was indicated. Last year's production was 466,929,000 bushels and the 1928-29 five-year average production was 506,570,000.

JAPAN ARMS FOR ETHIOPIA

Emperor Sends Agent to Tokyo; Plane Crash Shocks Italy

Addis Ababa, Aug. 9.—Daba Birrou, former Foreign Office official, left for Japan to-day accompanied by an unidentified Japanese on a secret mission.
It was reported without confirmation the mission had to do with the purchase of arms and ammunition from the Japanese.

A reliable source said Birrou would establish the first Ethiopian consulate in Japan, probably at Tokyo.

CREDIT ASKED
In connection with the arms and ammunition report, it was said Birrou would attempt to obtain credit for at least 50 per cent of the value of the order.

Birrou is going by way of Djibouti, from where he is expected to sail on a French steamship direct to Kobe, Japan.

The government to-day embarked on a campaign of economic self-sufficiency for the empire along with its military preparations for the threatened conflict with Italy.

BARONESS LOSES ONE EYE'S SIGHT

Associated Press
Genoa, Spain, Aug. 9.—Physicians said to-day that Baroness Maud von Thyssen will be blind in one eye as a result of the automobile crash last week in which former Prince Alexis Medvedev lost his life.

The doctors in attendance expressed "the utmost confidence" the baroness would recover, but said they could not save the sight of her right eye.

BOSTON SCENE OF BIG FIRE

Boston, Aug. 9.—The Boston waterfront was threatened for a time this afternoon as fire of undetermined origin broke out in the Quincy cold storage plant, a huge brick structure. Fire apparatus from all sections of the city brought the flames under control with the aid of fireboats.

Plan To Check Gorge Rapids

Drowning Tragedy Turns Attention To Dangerous Passage

Proposals were advanced to-day by Alderman J. D. Hunter for improvement of conditions at the Gorge to prevent the treacherous water race under the bridge, as the result of yesterday's drowning fatality there.

"It is about time something was done in the dangerous part of that attractive waterway," the alderman stated.

He again raised the question of the advisability of cutting a canal through from Portage Inlet to Thetis Cove in Esquimalt to lessen the speed of the flow under the span. Whether or not that would prove a solution he could not say, but stated it might be considered by engineers when they took up the question of improving the conditions there.

He had been assured, Alderman Hunter stated, that a survey would be made of the ground to consider the construction of a canal. Federal government engineers would make the survey when they could find time to do it, he said.

SWISS EXPEL ANTI-FASCISTS

Associated Press
Bern, Switzerland, Aug. 9.—The Swiss Federal Council to-day expelled five anti-Fascists and investigated charges that an organization had been established in Switzerland to protest against Italy's attitude toward Ethiopia.

It was charged the organization had been sending pamphlets criticizing Premier Mussolini into Italy by means of small hydrogen balloons.

RECRUITS FLIES FOR ETHIOPIA

Claiming to have enlisted a dozen aviators already, Hal Duberrier, above, of Chicago, who says he was a member of the Lafayette Escadrille in the Great War, is recruiting an air force in France for service with the Ethiopian army. In event of a war with Italy, eight of his aviators are United States citizens, he states.

FIND BODY OF GORGE VICTIM

Police Locate Eddie Bryan Haut, Drowned Yesterday, While Dragging

The body of fifteen-year-old Eddie Bryan Haut, 3697 Elliston Avenue, was recovered by police at 9.30 o'clock this morning from the waters of the Gorge.

The boy was drowned yesterday afternoon when attempting to save a companion, Robert Aspinwall, of Tattersall Drive, Saanich.

Esquimalt and Saanich police, who dragged for the body since the accident yesterday, recovered it in the deep channel, while the tide was low, twenty feet west of the bridge.

The two boys were in a canoe which was upset by the swift current of the flood tide as they went under the bridge.

According to eyewitnesses, Aspinwall was not a very strong swimmer, and Eddie tried to save him. Aspinwall was saved by Jack Foyer, 519 Northcott Avenue, who dived from the bridge.

Efforts to locate the body of the lad, immediately after he sank, were unsuccessful. Dragging operations were carried on by Constable Gilbert Stancombe of the Esquimalt Police, and Constable Eric Elwell of Saanich, with Sgt. P. K. Cummings in charge.

An inquest into the tragedy will be held on Monday morning at 10 o'clock at McCall Brothers' Funeral Home.

QUESTION NEW TAX PROPOSAL

Real Benefits of Plan Applicable to Holders of Property

The manner in which the proposed new rental tax to provide revenue for the city to compensate for that lost on land would operate, if the proposal embodying Mayor Leeming's tax reform plans were approved by the government, could not be determined exactly to-day.

That it would relieve land owners and those paying taxes on improved property was emphasized by the mayor, who saw in that relief the re-establishment of property values, credit, confidence and good times.

The scheme was partially explained in the following hypothetical case:

HYPOTHETICAL CASE
A property, with a land value of $10,000 and a block valued at $250,000 was taken for the example.

The gross rental value on the building was hypothetically fixed at $50,000 annually. From that amount $20,000 was taken to care for water, janitorial services, depreciation, repairs, etc., leaving a net rental value of $30,000.

It would be on the net $30,000 that the rental tax would be levied.

The land owner would pay fifteen mills on the value of the land, set at $10,000, bringing in a levy of $150. The land would be tax free after that amount and the improvements would be exempt.

The rest of the city levy on that property would be collected through the medium of the rental tax on the net $30,000.

Fossil Found On West Coast May Be 30,000,000 Years Old

Geological Survey Party Finds Relic Which Perhaps Was Part of Ichthyosaurus; Four Hours to Dig It From Rocks

Special to The Times
Port Alberni, Aug. 9.—When the boat Black Raven arrived at Ahouat last Sunday it carried on its deck a large fossil salvaged from the lower cretaceous formations of the west coast of Vancouver Island. The fossil had been found encased in the rocks in front of the home of G. J. Smith, who said that the waves had laid it bare some time within the last two years.

Professor M. P. Bancroft, who is in charge of the geological survey party on the Black Raven, assisted by Rev. Anthony Terhaar of Friendly Cove, got the fossil out after four hours' work with cold chisels and sampling mallets.

Professor Bancroft is of the opinion that it may be part of an Ichthyosaurus that roamed the seas some 30,000,000 years ago.

The geological survey party under Professor Bancroft has to do with the examination of all gold properties on the west coast between Zeballos River and Alberni Canal.

The party consists of Professor Bancroft of Acadia University, Wolfville, N.S.; his assistants, Hugh Hamphrey of Victoria and Murray Mathew of Vancouver, and a crew consisting of Ross Lord, New Westminster; Capt. Wm. Warren of Victoria, and A. Gjestad of Whonnock.

Thousands Of Police At Toulon and Other Cities Mop Up After Big Riots

Talking Over Peace Prospects

When the above picture was taken in London, Sir Bolton Eyres-Monsell, First Lord of the Admiralty, Rt. Hon. Anthony Eden, Minister for League of Nations Affairs, and Viscount Halifax, War Secretary, were standing outside of the Foreign Office, discussing the tangled and jump affairs of European powers and the Ethiopian situation. Mr. Eden of late has been devoting all his efforts to the attempt to settle the dispute between Italy and Ethiopia.

Government Warns Agitators to Be Quiet as Army Units Held in Readiness For Action If Called

FRENCH LINE STRIKE ENDED

Associated Press
Paris, Aug. 9.—With troops ready but out of sight the French government to-day ordered police forces to clean up agitation centres.

Premier Laval ordered the prefects of all France's eighty-six departments to confer with him immediately. It was the first such conference in the history of the republic.

A somewhat easier attitude prevailed as the laborers in the government arsenals at Toulon and Brest went back to work and the French Line employees at Le Havre voted to end their strike.

The object of the prefects' conference was understood to be the development of a more favorable attitude on the part of government employees toward the pay cuts which the government deems necessary to help balance the budget.

Government officials said the riots of the last few days, which reached a climax with the known deaths of two persons yesterday evening in Toulon, "seemed to be organized disorders," but "unlikely to continue."

The government warned agitators to be quiet, but instructed the troops, held ready for action, to remain in the background.

THOUSANDS OF POLICE

A vast network of police was thrown over Toulon's riot scenes and a house-to-house search to-day brought forty arrests and the discovery of many wounded. Police said they seized "a regular arsenal" in one house in Toulon where two wounded were hiding. They brought out many small arms, several gas masks and a few sub-machine guns.

LOBBY ESTIMATED AT $5,000,000

Washington, Aug. 9.—Chairman Hugo Black, Alabama Democrat of the Senate lobby committee, predicts the power industry's fight against the utilities bill "will be known as the 'five million dollar lobby'."

With the record far from complete, he said yesterday evening in a public address under the auspices of the Washington Evening Star, expenditures of $1,500,000 had been revealed. Repeatedly he asserted that ultimately the users of gas and electricity must pay that bill.

FAST FLIGHT IS NOT TIMED

Associated Press
San Diego, Cal., Aug. 9.—Frank Kurtz, twenty-year-old Los Angeles flier, held a somewhat empty laurel to-day, earned in a three-flag air dash from Victoria, B.C., to Agua Caliente, Mexico.

The young pilot, making hurried refueling stops at Medford, Ore., Sacramento and Bakersfield, Calif., flew the 1,200-mile distance in the unofficial time of 13 hours, 41 minutes.

NO REQUEST MADE

The emptiness of his quest came with the announcement from William Van Dusen, official timer here for the National Astronautical Association, that he had not been asked to time Kurtz's arrival. As a result, he said, the pilot's time will not be recognized officially as a junior flying mark.

Kurtz carried a letter of greeting from Mayor David Leeming of Victoria to Mayor Peirastelle Flores at Tia Juana. He merely circled over the border town, however, landing here a few moments later, and to-day was to deliver the missile.

Thrilling Plane Landing Seen

One of Retractable Wheels Sticks, But Pilot Handles Machine at Newark, N.J., So Passengers Escape Injury

Associated Press
Newark, N.J., Aug. 9.—While police, firemen and ambulances waited, an Eastern Airlines pilot brought his crippled plane bearing six passengers to a thrilling but happy landing at the Newark airport to-day.

Pilot L. W. Willey and Co-pilot Albert Duke, flying the New Orleans to Newark route, took off from Washington at 6.13 a.m. A warning light soon told them the retractable landing gear was not working properly. Duke climbed out on a wing, but efforts to repair it were futile.

Eight pieces of fire apparatus, ambulances bearing city hospital doctors and nurses, and police rushed to the airport. The plane roared in and circled for twenty minutes, while persons on the ground watched fearfully. Co-pilot Duke herded the passengers into the rear of the plane to take the load from the defective wheel. Pilot Willey glided in at an angle which made the good left wheel strike first.

The unusual shock of the landing sprung the right wheel into place again and the plane sped over the runway safely.

The committee will start its hearings in Vancouver from September 9 to 13. On September 14, they will go to New Westminster and after sitting in Victoria will go to Nanaimo September 26.

The full committee will sit only in Victoria and Vancouver to save expenses. Individual members will cover interior points.

Discussion at the meeting yesterday centred around the main features of the bill and upon the methods to be used in conduct of the hearings.

BENNETT TO SEE TREKKERS

Premier To-morrow Will Talk With Delegates From 500 Now in Ottawa

Ottawa, Aug. 9.—A small delegation of the Ontario On-to-Ottawa marchers will be received by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett and other members of the government at 10 o'clock to-morrow forenoon, instead of next Thursday as requested. Mr. Bennett made the announcement early this afternoon and spokesmen for the trekkers were so advised.

Two representatives of the trekkers visited the Prime Minister's office this morning and laid before one of Mr. Bennett's secretaries their seven-point programme, asking that it be taken under consideration and a meeting with the government arranged for next Thursday.

The trekkers spent this morning erecting tents loaned them by certain Ottawa citizens.

During the night the trekkers slept in the open on vacant property near the centre of the city.

NO BEGGING

Mayor Nolan and city police have forbidden all begging on the streets or canvassing of houses or stores during the stay of the trekkers.

All city fire stations, however, have been ordered to act as voluntary receiving depots and any citizens who wish to contribute food or money to the maintenance of the trekkers may leave it at a fire station.

About 500 people, including some thirty women, were said to be in the encampment.

EXTORTION CHARGE HEARD

New Westminster Magistrate Gives Remand to Man in Jail

Canadian Press
New Westminster, Aug. 9.—Charged with demanding $10,000 from J. G. Robson, president of the Timberland Lumber Co. Ltd. in an alleged extortion plot, Norman Abbott, twenty-eight, New Westminster, was remanded until August 12 by Magistrate H. L. Edmonds in police court to-day.

The remand was ordered to permit Abbott to serve out a month's sentence in the Okalla jail for driving an automobile while intoxicated.

TWO LETTERS

Two letters received by Mr. Robson demanded that $10,000 be placed beneath a sidewalk at Royal Avenue and Tenth Street on July 16, 1935, at 7 o'clock in the evening.

"If we lost out we are going to make you pay through the nose as well as your family," the alleged note stated. "You have a $50,000 dollar home which you will never enjoy if this day loan is not loaned."

The note, dated July 11, contained many misspelled words.

The second note warned Mr. Robson against informing the police of the demand and added: "We would like to say that the money we do not use will be returned to you."

Neither letter was signed.

SOON TO STATE ELECTION DATE

Federal Poll to Be Announced This Evening Or in Few Days

Ottawa, Aug. 9.—Government appointments made yesterday, but not officially announced, are said to involve the resignation of Hon. Hugh Guthrie as Minister of Justice and his acceptance of the chairmanship of the Board of Railway Commissioners. It was also understood the personnel of the Canadian wheat board had been practically decided on.

It had been known for some time that John I. McFarland, who handled the government's operations on the Winnipeg wheat market, would be chairman of his health committee.

Prime Minister R. B. Bennett said yesterday the progress had been made with selections of appointees for the numerous senate, judicial and administrative vacancies. He expressed the belief he would be in a position to make a general announcement this evening, after securing approval of the Governor-General, who is in residence in Quebec.

ELECTION DATE
Whether or not the dissolution of Parliament and date of the general election would also be announced this evening could not be learned for certain, but Mr. Bennett intimated the necessary order might be approved along with those making the various appointments. Cabinet reorganization is not expected until later, and it is possible announcement of dissolution may also go over for a few days longer.

case. But there was no question of official comment on the possibility of Murray, charged with kidnapping, and Melner, already in prison for the crime, being freed.

Police quarters listened to the statement of Murray's wife at Cincinnati and said nothing.

PLEA WAS SURPRISE
It was understood, however, developments might be expected in the case since Michael McCordell pleaded guilty to a kidnapping charge in court a week ago to-day. Arrested at Crown Point, Indiana, McCordell waived extradition and surprised even the prosecution with his plea of guilty on his first court appearance.

Friends of Murray, held in jail here, and Melner, serving a fifteen-year sentence at the Kingston penitentiary, were quick to assert any confession by McCordell would absolve Murray and Melner of blame, but police and Crown Attorney Norman P. Newton, special prosecutor, have been silent on this point.

NO TORONTO STATEMENT
Toronto, Aug. 9 (Canadian Press).—An attempt to confirm a Cincinnati report regarding Murray, under indictment for the kidnapping of John S. Labatt, and David Melner, serving a fifteen-year sentence for the crime, were likely to be freed because of someone's "confession," was unsuccessful here to-day.

Attorney-General Arthur W. Ross, who would not comment on a statement made by Mrs. Murray, wife of "Piccolo Pete" Murray, charged with the abduction.

M. W. ZENGE IS TO FACE JURY

True Bill Returned at Chicago on Slaying of Dr. W. J. Bauer

Associated Press
Chicago, Aug. 9.—A true bill charging Manderville W. Zenge, lanky Missouri carpenter, with murdering his love rival, Dr. Walter J. Bauer, by a penknife mutilation, was reported returned to-day by the grand jury.

The reported action came after Prosecutor Charles S. Dougherty had presented witnesses to substantiate circumstantial evidence the state claims it has against Zenge, who through five days of questioning maintained he was innocent of the crime.

The jury heard four witnesses who previously had said Zenge was the man who ran the car in which Dr. Bauer, bleeding to death from his wounds, was abandoned at a south side filling station.

Says Kidnapping Japanese Plot

Dr. H. Mueller States He and Gareth Jones Held in Mongolia in Scheme

Canadian Press from Havas
Peking, Aug. 9.—The charge Japanese military authorities engineered the bandit kidnapping of Gareth Jones and Dr. Herbert Mueller, English and German newspaper correspondents, because they had learned of plans for a Japanese invasion of Chahar province, was made to-day by Dr. Mueller.

The German was released some days ago, but Jones, correspondent for The Manchester Guardian, is still held. A ransom of $40,000 was paid for him, but he is understood to be in the hands of a second band which is demanding $100,000 ransom.

The two newspapermen on arriving at Dolonor last month found the Japanese forces there in the midst of intensive preparations for a military campaign to start August 13, asserted Dr. Mueller, correspondent for the official German news agency. A Japanese officer told him there was to be an invasion of the Chahar district, he added.

"WHITE" RUSSIANS THERE
Large numbers of tanks and armored cars manned by "White" Russians were in evidence, Dr. Mueller declared. He said he and Jones had seen important troop movements. Dolonor, although in Chahar territory, was entirely occupied by Japanese, he added.

Dr. Mueller said he was convinced the bandits who kidnapped him had acted on the instigation of Japanese military authorities, worried at the extent of the newspapermen's knowledge of Japanese military activity.

Jones and Mueller were kidnapped July 28 near Chemschiao and fifteen miles northwest of Paoching on the train from Dolonor to Kailash. Dr. Mueller and their "White" Russian chauffeur were released the next day to negotiate for ransom.

Jones was secretary to Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, former Prime Minister of Great Britain.

Girl Testifies In Own Defence

Associated Press
Detroit, Aug. 9.—The assertion that "I didn't think we had done anything" wrong was made by Loretta Jackson, testifying to-day at the first degree murder trial of William Lee Ferris and three women for the slaying last June 26 of Howard Carter Dickinson, New York attorney.

On direct examination to-day she said she had realized a telegram to her mother in Detroit, which resulted in their arrest, might result in officers finding them, but she was not apprehensive because she felt she had done no wrong.

Loretta said Ferris had told the women to "shut up" when they asked why Dickinson was killed. She repeated statements made by Florence that Ferris was searching for "some papers."

Georgia Street Auditorium has been engaged for his Saturday night lecture on "Are We Facing a Revolution?"

"I undertook to bring Dr. Durant to Victoria as well as Vancouver, because I think one of the finest things I could do was to give you people an opportunity to enjoy a mind like his while he happened to be on the coast," said Mr. Cromie.

was an indefatigable worker for the Red Cross Society, of which her husband was local chairman at that time. Or late years they have spent much of their time at Golden, on the ranch which they acquired nearly thirty years ago.

SPY CHARGES AT METZ; MAN HELD

Associated Press
Metz, France, Aug. 9.—A sensation was caused in this military stronghold yesterday by the arrest of Adolphe Charles Grilling, an anti-aircraft section, accused of having given important secret documents to an agent of a foreign power.

NIGHT INCREASE
They felt that while land would benefit and they would merely split their tax payments between the province and the city, there was a greater chance of increased expenditures by the city.

If the government took over the social and other services as it is asked,

QUESTION NEW TAX PROPOSAL

The amount of that tax would depend on the city's requirements as set forth in the annual budget, and the proportion the $30,000 represented in the total rental value of all city premises.

TENANT MEETS TAXES
Instead of a tenant paying straight rent to the landlord for the use of the premises and letting the landlord deduct from that amount the taxes due the city on the property, the tenant would have to pay rent and taxes as well, unless some reciprocal agreement were reached between the tenant and the landlord.

Proponents of the scheme point out that rents would be reduced automatically by the slashing of the taxes on land and the exemption of improvements from the city levy. That, however, would be a matter for the landlord to decide.

Viewing the number of properties in arrears in taxes, the mayor stated the new rental tax would automatically eliminate arrears since "the tenant would be paying taxes directly to the city and the money he formerly gave to the landlord as rent would not run the risk of being kept in the landlord's pocket."

On the assumption that rents, in many cases did not pay the landlord for the investment his property represented, a contention maintained by Mayor Leeming, the result of the proposed new rental tax was expected in some quarters to transfer the burden from the land owner to the tenant.

DEPENDENT ON PROVINCE
The whole scheme, the mayor pointed out, would depend upon the provincial government assuming the costs of social services, police and justice administration duties, health and education.

If the government were to assume that, the city levy would be reduced by 50 per cent, Mayor Leeming stated. On the reduced levy he feels the rental tax, placing the burden on the tenant according to the rental value of the property he uses, would be more equitable than keeping it on the backs of the property owner.

Those who were not entirely in sympathy with the scheme and who were not owners of property in large amounts, saw comparatively little improvement in their own condition.

MERELY SPLIT PAYMENTS
They believed that while they would escape a heavy city levy, which they contended they met under the present system either in actual tax payments or through the medium of rent, they would still have to dig down into their pockets to provide funds for the provincial government to meet the increased charges it would take over if the plan were adopted. In other words they felt they would still be paying out the same amount, but splitting it to a greater extent between the city and the province. In the case of holders of large tracts of property, the scheme was considered a splendid idea, since it would ease the tax of most of the burden they now carry. Even among those without large holdings, it was felt land should receive some relief.

However, there were still further doubts in the minds of some over the proposals.

RAIL GREASING TRIAL AT GOLDEN

relieve the congestion at the Lethbridge and Fort Saskatchewan jails which had been filled to capacity.

NEW INFORMATION
Canadian Press
Calgary, Aug. 9.—Denials of British Columbia police that transients en route east from the Coast province, had taken possession of a train at Golden, B.C., after the rails had been greased, were refuted by police authorities in Calgary to-day.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police officials to-day had new information concerning the episode.

It was shown to-day the train was not actually stopped, but it was backed up and the tracks sanded before it could continue to Calgary. This occurred a few miles east of Golden late Tuesday night. While the train was slowed down, sixty transients clambered aboard, disobeying orders of the railway crew. Soap was used to grease the rails. It had been taken from a tin container, police said here.

TWENTY-EIGHT JAILED
Twenty-eight of the men who were arrested when the train arrived in Calgary have been sentenced to jail terms for breach of the Railway Act.

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police war on transients is fast filling Alberta jails and the problem of housing the prisoners was being considered by the authorities to-day.

Daily, for nearly a month, transients have been taken from freight trains here and sentenced to jail terms.

Indicated oats production is 1,187,000,000 bushels, against 1,226,943,000 a month ago, 526,050,000 last year and 1,218,000,000, the five-year average.

HAIL CAUSES GRAIN LOSSES

Estimated 400,000 Acres on Prairies Damaged to Some Extent

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Aug. 9.—Alberta has suffered from the worst hail storms of recent years during the last three weeks, according to Dr. T. W. Grindley, head of the agricultural branch of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. He estimated 400,000 acres had been damaged by hail storms. Large districts had been hauled out entirely and other areas less seriously damaged. Some of the best growing areas of the province were hit.

One district riddled by hail stretches from Okotoks to Macleod in the foothills and extends 180 miles east to Gleichen. In a Calgary dispatch a couple of days ago Vaughan S. Kimpton, Liberal candidate for Gleichen in the Alberta election, estimated 200,000 acres of wheat crop in that district had been laid waste. Dr. Grindley believed the estimate was "very accurate."

Another area hard hit is between Carstairs and Olds, north of Calgary. The Wetaskiwin area also suffered, and a district northeast of Edmonton not yet defined. Hail damage had not been heavy in Saskatchewan and particularly light in Manitoba, according to Dr. Grindley. He receives weekly telegraphic reports from correspondents in each district of the prairie provinces.

POLICE MEASURES COST $68,000

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Aug. 9.—Expenditures of the Vancouver police department during recent labor troubles, including $150 for hire of a field gun and purchase of a machine gun and $6,578 for feeding special police officers, have been approved by the civic finance committee.

Alderman H. J. de Graves told the committee there had been a plot to "blow the city up" on May 1. Mayor G. G. McGeer stated unemployment demonstrations and consequent defence of the city had cost $68,000. Of the over-expenditure, the mayor said he had an agreement with the Attorney-General of British Columbia to reimburse the city.

Building On U.S. Coast Gains

Figures For July Show Many Men Returned to Work in Cities

Associated Press
San Francisco, Aug. 9.—More men went to work in the U.S. Pacific coast building industry in July and orders for materials picked up.

The coast's ten largest cities issued permits for more than $5,500,000 worth of building, which more than doubled the work started in July last year. The July gain over June's $4,855,000 was around 13 per cent. This is a contra-seasonal gain, as records show the usual tendency is for July to decline about 12 per cent from June. The spread of the activity is indicated by the fact that nine of the ten cities recorded gains over a year ago, indicating virtually the entire coast is participating in the recovery of this basic industry.

SEVEN MONTHS
The records for the first seven months of this year show a round total of $41,285,000 in building permits issued—this figure also doubling that for the like 1934 period, with a little to spare. The 1934 period of seven months produced a total of $20,589,000.

The ten cities issued 4,514 permits in July, compared with 4,238 in June and 3,994 in July, 1934. For the seven months this year 30,023 jobs were given the "go ahead" signal, compared with 21,818 last year. Building in the larger cities has lagged somewhat behind the pace of the smaller cities and towns.

Woodsworth Is Heard at Brandon

Brandon, Aug. 9.—The Co-operative Commonwealth Federation was pledged to a programme of government economy, including centralised control of all banking and public utilities, J. S. Woodsworth, party leader, declared here yesterday evening.

Premier Bennett appeared as a startling prophet of social reform in his radio address last January, Mr. Woodsworth declared, yet he had done nothing constructive in the succeeding months. "New factories, railways and highways are not needed, since Canada can, with present equipment, produce three times as much. An expanding market, as we knew it in the early days of capitalism is gone." He questioned the government guarantee of Canadian Pacific Railway bonds to the extent of $50,000,000 without giving the House of Commons the facts.

POLISH-DANISH DISPUTE SETTLED

Associated Press
Free City of Danzig, Aug. 9.—The customs disagreement between Poland and the Free City of Danzig, threatening serious international complications, was settled amicably with the signing of a four-point accord by representatives of the two governments yesterday.

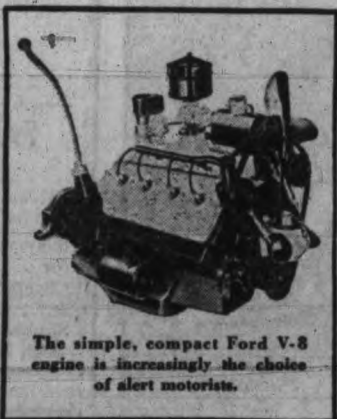

Under the agreement Danzig cancels a decree permitting German goods to enter the Nazi-controlled Free City without payment of duty; Poland revokes an order prohibiting the collection of Polish customs fees in Danzig on imports destined for Poland; Polish slots will be used for freight and passenger transportation when destined beyond Danzig's borders, and Polish members of the Danzig port council will use slots exclusively in financial management of the port.

PETITION WILL BE CIRCULATED

New Deal Meeting at Duncan Supports Plea to Island Members

Duncan, Aug. 9.—At the invitation of the local branch of the Vancouver Island Tourist Association, Bruce McKelvie gave an address in the I.O.O.F. Hall, Duncan, on Wednesday night, on "Better Terms for Vancouver Island." Mayor Prevost, in the chair, said a petition has been drawn up, to go to the ten island members, asking them to unite in demanding better terms for the island. Several questions were discussed and it was finally decided unanimously that the meeting endorse the circulation of the petition.

At the close of the meeting Mayor Prevost asked for volunteers to help circulate the petition for signatures. Several offered their assistance. At the regular meeting of the Duncan Consolidated School Board Wednesday evening, E. H. Whittingham, who has recently been teaching at Salt Spring Island, was appointed to the staff of the Duncan High School, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Gibson. Mr. Whittingham has had thirteen years' experience of teaching, and is a graduate of the London (England) University. He specializes in chemistry and physics.

An application was received from the North Cowichan School Board asking whether, if it was found necessary, the board would take in three pupils from grade 11 and four from grade 12. The board said it would agree to this, on payment of the regular fee of $65 per year per pupil.

Mrs. C. Carlton Stone was hostess at her home Wednesday at a silver tea, proceeds of which will go towards the erection of a new parish hall for St. Peter's, Quamichan.

COURT TEST ON MARKET ACT

Ruling Asked on B.C. Mainland Against Milk Levies

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Aug. 9.—Validity of Dominion and provincial natural products marketing acts is attacked by William A. Hayward, Sea Island farmer, and the Independent Milk Producers' Co-operative Association in a British Columbia Supreme Court action against the British Columbia Lower Mainland Dairy Products Board.

The plaintiffs claim declarations they are under no obligation to comply with the statutes and they seek an injunction to restrain the defendant from enforcing the acts by collecting tolls and charges and setting up a pool. The court is also asked to decide the provincial marketing statute is ultra vires of the Legislature and that the Dominion measure, in so far as it purports to apply to marketing in British Columbia, is ultra vires of Parliament.

An accounting is demanded of moneys received by the board out of the proceeds of the plaintiffs' milk and milk products.

MONTREAL DOCK FIGHT SETTLED

Associated Press
Montreal, Aug. 9.—A dispute between the Longshoremen's Union of Montreal and the Association of Syndicated Longshoremen over the loading of ships in Montreal harbor has been settled out of court and injunction proceedings taken by the former body have been dropped by mutual agreement. It was stated to Mr. Justice A. Trahan in the practice court to-day. Details of the agreement were not divulged.

An interim injunction had been granted against the defendant union ordering its members to discontinue interference with workmen of the other union engaged in unloading the freighter Cedar.

MEN READY TO BE FROZEN

Dr. R. Willard of Hollywood Hopes to Store Subjects, Then Revive Them

Associated Press
Hollywood, Calif., Aug. 9.—Dr. Ralph Willard, young Russian-born chemist who claims to have frozen small animals solid and then revived them, says he hopes to experiment this autumn with a human being. However, Dr. C. C. Warn, general manager of the city humane department, terms Dr. Willard's work as "absolute nonsense" and promises to stop it "if the law will stand back of me."

"The trouble is, people don't understand," said Dr. Willard. "Objections to my experiments are very absurd." Dr. Willard asserted more than 180 persons had volunteered to submit to his freezing process, but that before he would do it to a human being he would "get permission"—from whom he did not say. Highly beneficial results were claimed for the freezing experiments by Dr. Willard in the eradication of disease.

DR. CORNISH SPEAKS

Dr. Robert E. Cornish, Berkeley scientist, whose experiments last year in reviving dogs put to death clinically attracted wide attention, discussed Dr. Willard's work yesterday. He said the day might come soon when any man who wanted to see what the world was like a hundred years from now might do so by simply going into a scientific laboratory, having himself frozen solid and put away with a tag indicating when he wished to be thawed back to life.

Business Women's Head Forecasts Her Policy

Miss Charl O. Williams in Interview Urges Greater Representation of Women in Politics

"A Woman Senator for Every Province," the slogan advocated by Miss Josephine Dauphinee, retiring president of the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, has its echo in the policy forecast by Miss Charl O. Williams, new president of the United States Federation, who was to have been a guest at the big luncheon given here for the United States delegates, but who was unavoidably detained in Seattle at the last moment.

"More women in politics, but not unless they are qualified."

Speaking forcefully during a recent interview, Miss Charl O. Williams of Washington, D.C., emphasized that phrase as one of the leading policies during her administration as the newly-elected president of the United States Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

"We will demand a greater contribution from women to government," declared Miss Williams. "Greater qualifications will be requested for women in local, state and national offices. We should have more women in state legislatures and in Congress."

"Women Unite for Effective Democracy," will be the slogan of Business and Professional Women's Clubs under Miss Williams's leadership.

MORE BRISQUE THAN RIVAL
In contrast to vivacious Mrs. Geline MacDonald Bowman of Richmond, Va., defeated by just fourteen votes by Miss Williams in the presidential balloting, the new leader is brusque but friendly.

Miss Williams speaks rapidly and with force. Her thinking is swift and decisive. But her emphasis is softened by the pleasing accent of her native state, Tennessee.

As a professional woman she is field secretary and a past president of the National Education Association. For thirteen years her headquarters have been in Washington. And in her travels for the association she covers from 20,000 to 50,000 miles yearly.

"I shall continue in my position for the National Education Association," Miss Williams continued. "In fact, one of my aims will be to secure more lay support for the organization."

TO REORGANIZE STAFF

"I hope to conduct federation affairs in a manner that will make it possible for any member to become president without jeopardizing her own business or professional career."

MISS CHARL O. WILLIAMS

That will be accomplished by a trained staff of assistants able to function efficiently without demanding the entire time of the president.

"Youth plays a vital part in my programme. We want younger members in our organization. They must be trained to become future leaders. We have no desire to increase the federation membership, which now totals 60,000. But we want more young members."

"Outside of the organization, we have other aims for youth. One goal will be greater economic security. We will concern ourselves with the millions of boys and girls out of school and out of work."

SEEKS MORE STABLE HOMES

"In striving to help youth we will work for more stable homes, steady incomes for parents and proper education. One of the problems to which we will give co-operation will be the maximum development of boys and girls toward the life work to which they are best suited. The federation will take a firm stand for more thorough training of youth for citizenship."

Miss Williams voiced her antipathy to discrimination against employing married women, citing particularly the fate of women school teachers, dismissed because they were married. In addition to her belief in sex equality, she is interested also in the establishment of a career system for men and women in federal, state and local government employ. She opposes special protection for women in the same manner she opposes special discrimination against them because of their sex.

WED TO-DAY AT ST. JOHN'S

Miss Ada M. Rivers Becomes Bride of Thos. McDonald

This afternoon at 2 o'clock, in the presence of relatives and intimate friends, Rev. Canon F. A. P. Chadwick solemnized the marriage of Ada Marian, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rivers, 3548 Belmont Avenue, to Thomas McDonald, third son of Mr. Thomas McDonald and of the late Mrs. McDonald of Nelson, B.C.

The church was prettily arranged with palms and summer flowers. Given in marriage by her father, the bride entered the church to the strains of the "Lohengrin" bridal chorus, played by the organist. The bride's dress was of ivory tulle with many ruffles in quaint effect.

The wedding veil, which had been worn by the groom's mother forty-two years ago to-day, was held in place by a halo outlined with orange blossoms. Her arm bouquet was of pink bridal roses and white carnations. Miss Gwendolyn Saltmarsh of Vancouver was bridesmaid, wearing an ankle-length frock of pale pink floral nylon with pink accessories. Her bouquet consisted of gladioli and a variety of summer flowers.

Little Patricia Anderson was the flower girl, dressed in a Colonial frock of pink organdie with blue sash and bandeau in her hair, and carried a colonial bouquet. The groom was supported by Mr. Thomas Nute of Victoria. The ushers were Mr. H. W. Rivers and Mr. J. Eastick. After the service a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, which was decorated with flowers for the occasion.

The bride's mother received the guests wearing a brown suit of triple sheer and matching accessories, also a corsage bouquet.

Mrs. Currie of Nelson, B.C., sister of the groom, assisted. The younger couple received the congratulations of their friends beneath an archway flanked on either side with tall baskets containing gladioli. Refreshments were served from a table arranged with a hand-made lace cloth, centred with the four-tier wedding cake surrounded with fruit of pastel shades. Four silver vases containing flowers of pastel shades completed the table decorations.

Assisting in serving were Mrs. W. Masam, Misses Evelyn Foulds, Winnie Jenkins, Velma Nute, Dorothy Anderson, Lottie Anderson and Eleanor Anderson.

The young couple left by afternoon boat for Seattle, from where the bride traveling in a navy suit with shell pink georgette blouse and navy accessories.

On returning to the city the couple will take up their residence at 2159 Guernsey Street, Oak Bay.

Owing to the recent death of the bride's father, the ceremony was performed in the presence of only immediate relatives of the young people. Miss Susan Orr attended the bride, and Mr. Hugh McIntyre was his brother's groomsmen. Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre will make their home in Victoria.

RIDINGTON—WISMER

The principals were unattended, the bride wearing a simple tailored shirtwaist frock in Heaven blue silk crepe with picture hat of shell pink onion skin straw with blue flower trim and shoes in the pink. Her flowers were pink rosebuds on corsage.

A wedding luncheon was served following the ceremony at Mrs. Wismer's home, 563 East Thirteenth Avenue, the hostess wearing a nautical blue ensemble and Mrs. Ridington a sun yellow frock and accessories.

When leaving on the wedding trip, which will be spent motoring in California, the bride donned a maroon colored soft wool tulle with blouse in eggshell tone and accessories in the deep red.

Mr. and Mrs. Ridington will reside at Nelson, B.C., on their return.

YOUR CHILDREN
by Olive Roberts Barton

SO! YOU WON'T NEED MOTHER!
PROBABLY SHE DIDN'T, EITHER

"Will you write something about girls listening to their mothers?" asks a friend. "Methilda pays no attention to me and shrugs me off when I lecture her as she calls it. I try to be as tactful as possible when I tell her that a girl of sixteen must keep better hours, should not wear extreme make-up and that lighting one cigarette from another is a terrible habit. She must smoke two packs a day."

If this mother really means what she says, here goes.

Dear Girls: I am only a busybody interfering in your affairs. I was never fifteen or sixteen or seventeen so I don't know anything about girls at all.

I never had a date or a boy friend. The boys back in 1850—all mothers date back to 1850, you know—liked me, I agreed never to go to more than four spelling-bees a week or to stay out later than ten—in spite of the fact that the wild-crowd I ran with never turned in until eleven and sometimes went rowing in the moonlight.

If I told it any differently, girls, you wouldn't believe it because all girls think this is exactly the way their mothers spent their youth. Were I to say that they danced in prettier dresses than you ever wore, knew how to charm the boys (and boys were choosy even then), outwit other fellows and knew most of the answers long before you were born, you wouldn't believe that, either.

As for myself, I believe I was average. I allowed my mother to work and sew for me, taking it for granted that such great age didn't mind work. I soldiered all I could, wouldn't take advice except when I chose.

MOTHER REALLY KNEW

And all the time she knew how ignorant and cheap and common I was much of the time. But I was her fine girl—I knew it myself—and she said so little. I see now how little it was.

Once I insisted on a pink dress trimmed with black lace. She protested but I talked her into making it. I know now that it was only fit for a side-show. Another time I went skating one zero night when I already had a cold. She nursed me all winter after that and it never occurred to me to be contrite over my obstinacy or sorry she should have the worry and trouble because I hadn't listened.

Another time I came home from a summer visit and burst into the house with, "Oh, this place is so hot and stuffy I hate to come back," not realizing she had stayed in the city all summer. I never even thought of what she had endured to let me go away.

Never weigh your mother against the crowd, girls—What does the crowd

Canadian Mining Heir Now Biggest Spender and Play-boy in New York

New York, Aug. 8.—Broadway's most celebrated big-spending play-boy is the young Canadian mining heir, Duncan McMartin. If that is a Scotch name, his ancestors must be whirling in their graves. His income is something like $3,000 a day, and he thinks nothing of wrapping a new $15,000 imported car around a lamp post. Thinks nothing of tossing cannon crackers around a nightclub, and then quelling the management's indignation with a big check. Thinks nothing of going to a party, collecting all the guests' straw hats in a pile and jumping on them. Thinks nothing, apparently of what other people think about Duncan McMartin.

The Waldorf Bar has a polite but firm little sign at the entrance: "This Bar Respectfully Reserved for Men." But masculine domination takes a firmer stand in a Tenth Avenue saloon directly across town. On a square of tattered oilcloth is the message: "Dolls Are Poison Here. Scorpions!"

Dance Is Gay Climax To Druggists' Convention

About 400 Guests at Colorful Party at Empress Hotel; Dainty Favors and Golf Trophies Presented; Novel Programmes

On the full and diversified social calendar arranged in honor of the visiting delegates here for the Canadian Pharmaceutical Association convention, the red letter event was undoubtedly the ball held at the Empress Hotel yesterday evening as a fitting wind-up to a very successful meeting.

About 400 guests attended the function, which was held in the Crystal ballroom, Wm. Tickle and his augmented orchestra excelling themselves in the lulling music to which the guests danced enthusiastically to an early hour.

DAINTY SOUVENIRS

A delightful gesture was the presentation to each lady guest of a rose carnation boutonniere. Special prizes were awarded in a contest, the ladies receiving attractive compacts, fountain pens and other novelties.

The dance programmes were of novel and original design, representing a druggist's graduate, or medicine glass. Each of the dances was specially dedicated to the president of the C.P.A., the Canadian, Alberta, Manitoba, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Ontario, Prince Edward Island, Quebec, Saskatchewan and British Columbia Associations, as well as to the wholesale druggists, the retail druggists, sea-going hacks and the ladies, the home waits. "Say It With Music," being dedicated "To Everybody."

During supper, Mr. R. V. Jenkins, vice-chairman of the committee, presided, the trophies and prizes won in the golf tournament arranged in connection with the convention.

Mrs. Mary E. Rowland of Winnipeg Bride of Hungarian Nobleman

Associated Press
Cambridge, Mass., Aug. 8.—A divorcee of Winnipeg who claims descent from William Shakespeare, and a Harvard student, son of Hungarian nobility, were married to-day in East Cambridge district court by Court Clerk William A. Forbes.

The bride-to-be is Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Rowland, thirty-four, who said she was descended from the Bard of Avon, and gave her mother's name as Sarah Shakespeare. Her father is Allan W. Willis of London.

The bridegroom-to-be is Baron Wolfgang Philip von Schmertzing, thirty-three, graduate of the University of Manitoba and a student in the philosophy department at Harvard. He gave his birthplace as Riga, Latvia.

His father's name was given as Baron Stefan Von Schmertzing, now living in Hungary.

The marriage will culminate a romance begun on the campus of the University of Manitoba, where the couple met when he was a student. Mrs. Rowland, born in London, has been a resident of Winnipeg for several years.

The couple secured their license yesterday and immediately went before a district court judge, where they were granted the five-day waiver. After their marriage, Von Schmertzing said, he plans to teach in an American university.

JACKIE COOGAN TO WED ACTRESS

Associated Press
Hollywood, Calif., Aug. 8.—Toby Wing, blonde film actress, is wearing a sizeable diamond ring on her engagement finger.

The actress told friends the ring had been presented by Jackie Coogan, who was among those at the station last night when she boarded a train for Toronto.

White orpardi spotted with red, a red velvet belt, a ruffle neck and a completely circular skirt... these details made up the most attractive dress I saw this week.

Your Baby and Mine

SMALL CHILDREN WON'T DAWDLE WHILE LEARNING TO DRESS

One can hardly conceive of a child who at some time or another during the second year did not demand to have part in those activities in which heretofore he may have played only a passive role. Children grow tired of being fed, they grow restless when being dressed and as a result make life miserable for the parent—or demand to be allowed to do for themselves.

It is at the moment when this urge shows its head that some part of these ceremonies should be delegated to the child. But however badly the child may want to help, he very quickly tires.

BUTTONS WON'T BUTTON

He can't succeed as he wishes to succeed—and so his failures irritate him. Buttons won't slip nimbly into buttonholes. His mouth eludes the spoon. After some effort the child becomes cross. It is at this point that a placid mother can step in and offer gracious help and end the ceremony with color firing.

Children differ in their interest in such activities. There are children who prefer dressing themselves to running outdoors to play. Why should a mother force them to finish some other activity? The practice they get develops its own speed.

NOT DAWDLING

In this case we are talking of the young child who is just learning to dress, and finds the game fascinating—not the older child who by dawdling over the dressing which he knows very well how to do—is avoiding some other activity immediately beyond it.

But while a child is learning, it is discouraging to be saddled with the whole responsibility. Sometimes the child can't hurry—however he might wish to. Sometimes he grows so infuriated at his inability to master his obstinate garments that he is frustrated by his own emotion.

DON'T FORCE CHILD

So long as actual lack of ability—or fury at his failures—is preventing a child from dressing himself, the mother should not demand it of him. The mother who claimed that her four-year-old begged to sleep in his shoes—so that he wouldn't have to lace them—and who spent bitter minutes trying to get into his clothes was admitting that the task was too difficult for her child.

HOW TO MAKE ICED TEA

Infuse six heaping teaspoons of Salada Black Tea in a pint of fresh boiling water. After six minutes strain liquid into two-quart container. While hot, add 1½ cups of granulated sugar and the juice of 2 lemons. Stir well until sugar is dissolved. Fill container with cold water. Do not allow tea to cool before adding the cold water, otherwise liquid will become cloudy. Serve with chopped ice.

Pirates of Venus

By EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

Copyright, 1935

Now I turned my steps toward the east. As each planet I stopped and scanned the tableland in all directions, searching for some sign of those I sought, I saw signs of life, but not of human life. Heretofore animals grazed in large numbers upon the flower-strewn violet plain. Many that were close enough to be seen plainly appeared similar in form to earthly animals, but there was none exactly like anything I had ever seen on earth. Their extreme wariness and the suggestion of speed and agility in their conformation suggested that they had enemies; the wariness, that among these enemies was man; the speed and agility, that swift and ferocious carnivores preyed upon them.

These observations served to warn me that I must be constantly on the alert for similar dangers that might threaten me, and I was glad that the tableland was well supplied with trees growing at convenient intervals. I had not forgotten the ferocious beast that Kamolot and I had encountered in Vepaja, and I had seen nothing quite so formidable as yet among the nearer beasts, there were some creatures grazing at a considerable distance from me whose lines suggested a too great similarity to those bluebirds omnivores to insure ease of mind.

I moved rather rapidly, as I was beset by fears for Duare's safety and felt that if I did not come upon some sign this first day my search might prove fruitless. The klangan, I believed, must have alighted near the coast, where they would have remained at least until daylight, and my hope was that they might have sailed longer. If they had winged away immediately, my chances of locating them were slight; and now my only hope lay in the slender possibility that I might come across them before they took up their flight for the day.

The tableland was cut by gullies and ravines running down to the sea. Nearly all of these carried streams varying in size from tiny rivulets to those which might be dignified by the appellation of river, but none that I encountered offered any serious obstacle to my advance, though upon one or two occasions I was forced to swim the deeper channels. If these rivers were inhabited by dangerous reptiles, I saw nothing of them, though I admit that they were constantly on my mind as I made my way from bank to bank.

Once upon the tableland, I saw a large cat-like creature at a distance, apparently stalking a herd of what appeared to be a species of antelope; but either it did not see me or was more interested in its natural prey, for although I was in plain sight, it paid no attention to me.

Shortly thereafter I dropped into a small gully, and when I had regained the higher ground upon the opposite side the beast was no longer in sight; but even had it been, it would have been driven from my thoughts by faint sounds that came to me out of the distance far ahead. There were what sounded like the shouts of men and the unmistakable hum of an airplane.

Though I searched diligently with my eyes for the far horizon, I could see no sign of the authors of these noises; but it was enough for me to know that there was fighting ahead and that there was fighting there. Being only human, I naturally pictured the woman I loved in the centre of overwhelming dangers, even though my better judgment told me that the encounter reverberating in the distance might have no connection with her or her abductors. Reason aside, however, I broke into a run; and as I advanced the sounds waxed louder. They led the finally to the rim of a considerable canyon, the bottom of which formed a level valley of entrancing loveliness, through which wound a river far larger than any I had yet encountered. But neither the beauty of the valley nor the magnitude of the river held

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By MARY E. DAGUE

The easiest thing for the person with the finicky appetite to get down in hot weather is usually the thing that looks coolest and most tempting. So, on hot, breezy noons, try serving a nourishing drink that clinks and accumulates frost on the outside of the glass, with two or more kinds of prettily made sandwiches with vegetable fillings.

Everybody likes chocolate, of course, but you needn't stop there when you make out your cold drink list. Fruit juices, spices, vanilla, almond, pistachio, caramel and maple—all can be combined with milk, and the result is a delicious drink. The syrup from preserves, jam and jelly, too, for that matter.

Milk alone, or milk and egg may be used with the chosen syrup, and condensed and evaporated milks will give fine results. Naturally, don't add sugar to the drink made with condensed milk.

Here are some economical drinks that I hope will mean as much to your child as they do to mine:

PINEAPPLE SHAKE
One cup chilled pineapple juice, half cup chilled evaporated milk, one teaspoon lemon juice, chilled ice.

Add pineapple juice to milk and shake hard. Or you can beat the mixture with a small dower beater. Add ice and lemon juice and shake. This makes two servings. Any fruit juice can be used the same way.

ORANGE EGNOG
One egg, two oranges, one cup chilled milk, one tablespoon sugar, few grains salt, crushed ice.

Squeeze juice from oranges and grate rind. Add rind to juice and let stand while preparing other ingredients. Separate yolk from white of egg. Beat yolk with sugar and add strained juice. Beat well and add milk and salt. Mix thoroughly and fold in white of egg beaten until stiff. Be sure to chill oranges and egg as well as milk before mixing. This recipe makes two servings.

Another delicious drink is made with the whites of eggs.

THREE FRUIT FOAM
Two cups chilled grape juice, one cup grapefruit juice, one cup lemon juice, whites of three eggs, crushed ice, three-quarter cup powdered sugar.

Put fruit juices, unbeat egg, whites and sugar into a shaker and shake until frothy. Or the mixture can be beaten with a dower beater. Pour over crushed ice and serve with straws. This will make four large glasses.

TO-MORROW'S MENU
Breakfast -- Cakes, cereal, cream, bacon, pan cakes, syrup, milk, coffee.
Luncheon -- Assorted vegetable sandwiches, orange eggnog, coconut macaroons.

Dinner -- Veal patties, creamed radishes, fried squash, avocado and grapefruit salad, rice soufflé (chilled), milk, coffee.

Barnjum Forest Goes Under Axe

Timber Stands Preserved at Cowichan Now Being Felled

Duncan, Aug. 9.—The first step in the process which will reduce the beautiful Barnjum Forest to a barren waste has been taken. Through the Ryan, Hiberson Timber Company Limited, Victoria, two portions of it have been sold and the work of felling the trees has already been started on one of them.

Generally, some of the forest is situated around Menzies Falls and the balance of it is farther down the Gibbins Road. One plot reaches the Cowichan River near the old Benallick property, another touches the Cowichan Lake Road.

The piece known as the Evans tract, stretching westward from Vimy Hall and running down "the short road" has been sold to E. V. Munn. The Lady Strachan property, in which is Wake's Lake, and an adjoining block purchased from John Blair have been sold to Grant Colborne. It is here that work has begun.

There is also under consideration the sale of another tract to Mr. Munn, that situated at the far end of the river road. Altogether, it is anticipated that the whole Barnjum Forest will be logged off within the next four or five years. Mr. Barnjum died without leaving a will.

Fortunately, the property adjoining the Indian Reserve and including Menzies Falls is safe for the present, as this was transferred by Mr. Barnjum to Chandler Hovey, Boston, Mass., who it is understood, will hold it for a considerable time and may eventually build a summer home on it.

The Cowichan Leader, editorially, says:

Frank J. D. Barnjum, that fine friend of forest beauty, would be deeply grieved, were he alive, to witness the shattering of his fond plans, to which he unflinchingly gave his money and the closing years of his life. Through an oversight the Barnjum Forest in this district was not immediately entailed as had been Mr. Barnjum's intention, and he died before rectification was made.

"The people of Cowichan, who would have permanently benefited from this generous gift, are far from blameless for this loss, a crime against the posterity which our present civilization sees fit to ignore consistently."

VIEWS GIVEN ON EDUCATION

Expressions of opinion from statesmen, churchmen and economists of Great Britain on the value of education and the function it plays in the modern society were obtained by Major H. B. King, technical adviser to the Weir-Hart Commission on British Columbia School Finance, for his report, just issued.

All the replies received are firmly in accord that education is one of the leading functions of government. Following are extracts from some of them:

Viscount Cecil: "... I do feel very strongly that education is certainly not, in your word, 'a mere luxury,' but is one of the principal objects the achievement of which any government ought to see before itself."

Sir Arthur Keith: "... I am inclined to commend the example given you by Scotland. She had old endowments, to be sure; still, even in a new state such as British Columbia, I think, the provision for education of its citizens from infancy upwards should not be less than that made by a country like Scotland."

Viscount Halifax: "... The problems of the modern world cannot be solved merely by the training of a small intellectual elite, but it is equally necessary that the masses also should have a sound education. My view is that education is neither a luxury nor a form of charity, but a necessity for the maintenance and improvement of the standards of any civilized community."

Lord Macmillan: "... I place education second only to justice among the prime concerns of every civilized government. Education is not merely a means of getting on in the world, but is a prime factor in the promotion of social well-being—in short, of real human happiness."

J. M. Keynes, the economist: "... It is my opinion, for what it is worth, that in a country in the stage of development of British Columbia, money cannot be more wisely spent than on the educational service and that this should rank extremely high in the order of priority. Actual expenses of salaries and pensions ought to be paid out of current revenue. Legitimate to borrow for the purpose of school buildings even though these are not entirely revenue-producing."

Lord Bunsford Percy: "... I am quite clear that it is the duty of this state, so far as possible to educate all to the full extent of their respective and varying capabilities. Education is emphatically neither a luxury nor a form of charity, but something essential to the life of society itself. If government has to assume the chief or the sole responsibility for financing and organizing education, then education becomes the most essential activity of government next to defence and the maintenance of public order."

Dean of Canterbury: "... Personally I feel that the nation which tries to solve the present problems by training a small intellectual coterie, and saving money by giving to the masses the mere rudiments of education, is courting disaster. On the one hand, it opens the door to inefficiency and must, I believe, fall behind in the industrial race. On the other hand, it leads directly to dictatorship, which may just as readily be of the Communist as of the Fascist color."

Twenty-five Years Ago To-day

TUESDAY, AUGUST 9 (From The Times Files)

Angus Smith, city engineer, at the close of last evening's meeting of the city council found himself in a much more satisfactory position than had been anticipated by even his staunchest friends. He had the happiness of seeing all the clouds that had lowered upon his house dispelled as a result of the proceedings of the evening and it may be stated as a certainty that in response to the pressure of public opinion the council has decided that he shall be given every opportunity to exhibit his capacity for the important position to which he has been appointed.

The Victoria ball team leaves for Everett on Friday, and will play Snohomish at Everett on Saturday and Sunday next.

An illustration of the success which is being attained by modern methods in the poultry business on Vancouver Island is found in the impending installation of a 15,000 egg incubator, the largest plant of this kind yet ordered on the island, at the Portage Inlet Ranch, Burnside Road.

Jan St. Clair, in a communication read at last evening's meeting of the City Council, revives the project of a winter garden on the city property at the rear of the Empress Hotel, which came before the council of last year. The idea is to erect a theatre and pavilions, one on either side of the theatre or land owned by the city behind the hotel. The council decided that if Mr. St. Clair is in a position to submit a business proposition he will be heard in regard to the scheme.

Tarzan The Untamed

Copyright, 1935, by Edgar Rice Burroughs, Inc. Published by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.

Creeping slowly, she dropped closer and closer to the dying ape-man. Why did not Tarzan move? Had he indeed been overcome by the sleep of exhaustion? Or was she right-had death at last stilled that mighty body?

Filled with suspicion, the vulture circled warily. Twice he almost alighted upon the great, naked breast, only to wheel suddenly away. But the third time his talons touched the brown skin.

Instantly sudden life vitalized the body that had lain motionless so long. A brown hand swept downward from the brown forehead, and before she could raise a wing in flight he was in the clutches of his intended victim!

She fought, but he was no match for even a dying Tarzan. A moment later the ape-man's teeth closed upon the carion-eater. He ate a little of the tough flesh, and the blood was drink for one who was dying of thirst.

The Gumps

SHE KEEPS TELLING ME SHE'S GOING BACK TO HER MOTHER-JUST LET HER TRY!

THAT'S THE STUFF! JUST PUT YOUR FOOT DOWN-LET HER SEE THAT YOU'RE THE BOSS-

DON'T YOU TRY AND KEEP ME FROM SEEING MY POOR MAMA-YOU CHASED HER OUT OF HERE-AND SHE'S THE ONLY MOTHER I EVER HAD-

AND I SAY-YOU'RE NOT GOING TO LEAVE THIS HOUSE

STOP! DON'T YOU DARE LEAVE!

IF YOU LIKE YOUR HALF-WIT RELATIVES SO WELL-STAY WITH THEM-GOING TO MY MAMA!

MILLIE! WAIT-COME BACK!

Why Do We Revert To Barbarism In Summer?

Dorothy Dix

Would Apply Golden Rule Especially on Hot Days

Why, when Nature is at its best, human nature should be at its worst, nobody knows. It is just one of the things that are. Our morals and our manners melt down with our collars in hot weather and we do the things in August that we would be perfectly incapable of doing in December. In cold weather we are dignified, polite, considerate of the rights of others. In hot weather we are hoodlums who run roughshod over our fellow creatures and do as we please and grab what we want for ourselves, and if others don't like it they can lump it. There is about fifty degrees' difference in our conduct in the dog days and at Christmas.

This decadence in what might be called brotherly love that takes place in the summertime is the more unfortunate because that is the psychological moment when it is most needed to do its great and perfect work. In the winter when we can shut our doors and windows we can in a measure barricade ourselves against the sights and sounds that murder our peace and reduce us to nervous prostration.

But in the summertime we have no such protection. Every window is up. Every door open. Every noise free to assail our aching ears. We are utterly at the mercy of our neighbors and, alas, the only thing that remains from seems to be their hearts.

Now I am persuaded that there are few people who are torturers by nature or who get any real pleasure out of inflicting suffering on those about them. I think they are just selfish in doing what they want to do regardless of the comfort of others, or perhaps they are so careless that they have never thought of the rights of others at all.

It is for this reason, and because we are so utterly defenceless in the summertime, that I make this appeal to every one to try to practice the Golden Rule and do unto others as they would be done by.

Let us resolve then: To be merciful in the use of the radio and not to turn on the loud-speaker and let it blare for hours at a time, until it gives every one for blocks around the jitter. We know well enough that it makes us want to scream to have to listen even for an hour to any one else's selection of programmes.

Not to wake the whole neighborhood up by screaming good-byes and "good old time" and wiseracres when we come home from a wild party at 4 a.m. Nothing but the fear of the laws keeps us from murdering those who rouse us out of perhaps the first sound sleep we have got of a hot night.

Not to keep parrots that squawk and dogs that bark until they frazzle the nerves of the whole neighborhood. We have known what it was to feel that one more squawk or one more yelp would send us to the insane asylum.

Not to buy our children noise-making toys. We have felt that there was plenty of misery in the world without adding little Johnny's drum and trumpet and clarinet to it.

Not to sit in an automobile and honk and honk and honk until somebody two or three blocks away hears it and answers the call. We have all felt that summer should be the open season when automobile honkers should be killed at sight.

Not to wish ourselves off as guests on our friends who have country places. We know just how "pleased" we are to see deadbeats.

Not to drop in with a car full of people on anybody for lunch or drinks just because we happen to be motoring by their houses and think it would be a good way to entertain our guests at some one else's expense. You can easily recall your emotions when you had to go out in the kitchen and help an infuriated cook add half a dozen other dishes to the meal, and when you saw your expensive liquor going down the throats of a lot of spongers whom you never saw before and hoped never to see again.

Not to visit if you are on a diet, or can't do everything everybody else does. You remember when the servants left because Aunt Jane had to have all her food prepared in a peculiar way, and how bored you were with angels, who didn't play cards and couldn't swim and wouldn't automobile.

In a word, let's resolve to make this summer a happy one for those about us by treating them as we would like to be treated.

Uncle Wiggily and the Swimming Chickens

By HOWARD E. GARIS

Every day Uncle Wiggily hopped over to see the mad hen, as he called her. She was no longer mad, for since Mr. Longears had put up the umbrella over her when it rained, and she didn't get wet when it rained. And you know a wet hen is always mad.

"Good morning, Mrs. Hen!" Uncle Wiggily would greet her as he hopped around the corner of the barn where she was sitting. "Any little chickens out this morning?"

"Not this morning, Mr. Longears," the hen lady would answer. "But I think they will soon be hatched from the eggs. I can hear them picking away at the shells inside. Soon they will pick their way through and then I shall have my little family of downy chicks."

"I wish you joy of them," spoke the rabbit gentleman politely.

"Thank you," cooed the hen lady, and then she turned some of the eggs over with her bill. For hatching the chicks must be turned now and again for the little chickens inside get tired of always sleeping on one side, just as you do in bed.

ALL GO FOR A WALK

One day when Uncle Wiggily was on his way to visit the farm kept by the jolly old Ben Dog, where the used-to-be-wet and mad hen was hatching out her eggs, the dog said:

"I think Mrs. Hen is going to be very happy to-day."

"Why not?" asked the rabbit.

"Because her eggs have hatched. I feel sure. I haven't been too close to her, for I didn't want to ruffle her feathers. But from around the corner of the barn I heard her fussing and cackling and cutting and, I heard some little baby peeps and yelps, so I think the eggs have hatched."

"I hope so," said Uncle Wiggily. "Mrs. Hen was quite basket about when I'll stop and see her as I hop past. She and I are good friends since I fixed an old umbrella over her to keep off the rain."

"Yes, she is very fond of you," barked the Ben Dog.

When Uncle Wiggily came within sight of the hen lady he saw her strutting about very proudly and making the clucking sound hen mothers always make to call their chicken children to them.

"Good morning, Mrs. Hen!" greeted the bunny gentleman. "I see your little chickens have hatched. Mr. Longears says a dozen little, round, fluffy bunches of downy feathers running in and out from under the mother hen's wings."

"Oh, yes, I have hatched my chickens at last, thank goodness!" cackled Mrs. Hen. "I am soon going to take them for a little walk. Don't you want to come with us?"

CHICKS TRY SWIMMING

"Thank you, indeed I do," said Mr. Longears. "Soon the hen mother started out, with Uncle Wiggily looking at the little downy balls of fluffy feathers more closely he said, 'Mrs. Hen! Those aren't your chickens, surely!'"

"Indeed they are! What do you mean?" cooed the hen lady just then. All of a sudden, with tiny quacking sounds, the downy bunches of feathers started to waddle down to the lake. Into the water they jumped and began swimming and paddling with their webbed feet.

"Oh, my dear little chickens! Come out of the water! You'll be drowned!" cooed the hen mother. "Oh, who ever heard of swimming chickens?"

"These aren't chickens!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "You have been setting on duck eggs and you've hatched out a lot of little ducklings! See how well they swim!" And indeed the "chickies" were ducks!

"I don't care," chuckled the mother hen. "I love my swimming chickens, even if I can't swim." And she was very happy after her first surprise. So when you see the lawn-mower cutting the top off the ice cream cone I'll tell you that about Uncle Wiggily's watercreaks.

STEVENS PARTY TO BACK DICKIE

Stevens Reconstruction Party leaders to-day said they were much encouraged in their campaign on the island by the announcement in Duncan that a party compromise had been reached in the Nanaimo riding whereby the Stevens Party would support the retiring Conservative member, C. H. Dickie, who, in turn, would support the Stevens Party against the Bennett group in the House of Commons, if elected.

Reconstructionists hailed this as one of the first big gains for them in British Columbia. They pointed out this would make it unnecessary for them to run a candidate in the Nanaimo riding, thus making it possible for the Stevens organization to concentrate its forces in Victoria for the campaign, and heighten the chances of victory here.

They also expressed the opinion that Reconstructionist support of Mr. Dickie will give him his only chance of re-election, as reports from field men working for all parties indicate that the temper of the voters in all coast ridings is such that no straight, Bennett-Conservative candidate has much of a chance.

Mr. Dickie's supporters will meet in Duncan this week-end formally to record him the federal nomination.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel."

SATURDAY, AUGUST 10, 1935

Benefic stars rule this day, according to astrology. It is a day primarily fortunate for seeking friends, especially those who are influential. Short journeys are well directed.

Although there may be many evil communications regarding persons who control the destinies of others, there is a sign promising success in plans of political or individualism in forms that are unfavorable to the greatest good of the greatest number may be widespread at this time when unexpected events cause national anxiety.

This is a lucky day for writing letters, especially those that solicit favors or request support of any sort. Love misadventure, however, should be delayed, for they may be the badly misdirected while this rule prevails.

Nervous disorders and maladies that affect the digestive apparatus may be prevalent at this time, but there are many reasons why mind cure should be helpful.

This evening may be disappointing to the young, especially to those who are interested in the climate of a summer romance. There is an aspect making for indecision and of mind change at this time.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a satisfactory year, in which their mother brings luck to them.

Children born on this day probably will be of bright and cheerful, optimistic and independent, but inclined to secretiveness.

Herbert C. Hoover, former President of the United States, was born on this day, 1874. Jay Gould, financier, also celebrated it as a birthday, 1837.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

SEA MONSTER IS WASHED ASHORE

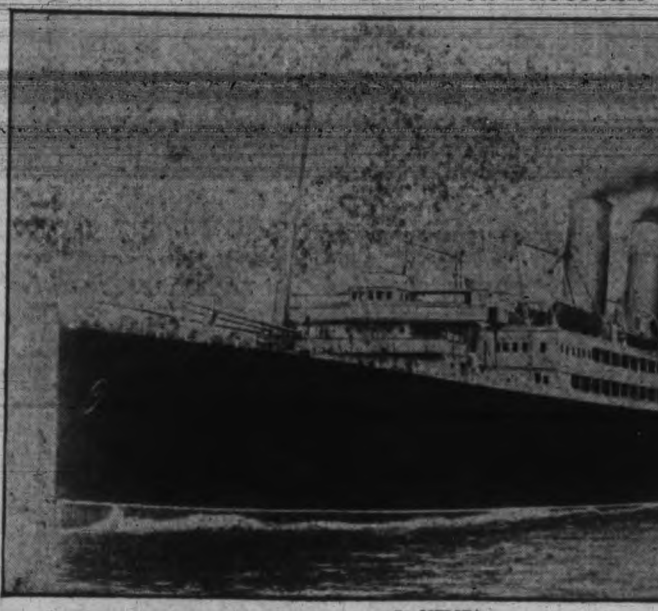

Canadian Press from Hays, Tennessee, Aug. 9.—The carcass of a strange sea monster was washed up on the beach at Medano today. The head and a ten-foot backbone remained, the head being enormous and without eyes. It was not related to the whale family, as far as naturalists could discover.

Dock Strikers' Committee in Vancouver Says Men's Patience Exhausted

Canadian Press—Vancouver, Aug. 9.—The picket committee of striking Vancouver waterfront unions can no longer guarantee peaceful picketing on the waterfront, according to a statement issued yesterday by a committee headed by Ivan Emery, president of the central body, the Longshore and Water Transport Workers of Canada.

"The patience of the men has reached the breaking point," the statement said. "We can no longer guarantee peace. We cannot stop the men if they take things into their own hands, the mayor (G. G. McCreery) cannot stop them, the committee cannot stop them."

"We have done all we could to keep peace and to carry on proper legal, peaceful picketing. We have received nothing but slaps in the face. Every effort we have made for relief, mediation and conciliation has been blocked."

AIR EXPRESS TO SOUTH AMERICA

New Service Connecting B.C. Ports With Latin America Announced

Announcement of a new international air express service from Canada to Central and South America, via Victoria, Vancouver and Nelson as three of the twenty Canadian export stations, was made today by the Railway Express Agency, United Air Lines and Pan American Airways.

According to officials, shipments between Canadian and Latin American ports now can be made at speeds of from three to thirty times faster than hitherto possible through the United States rail and air express and the international air lines circling the Caribbean and Central and South America. Shipments from Canada travel "in bond," with the Railway Express Agency acting as a bonded carrier on both rail and air lines.

Direct air service from Vancouver to the Mexican border is provided by United Air Lines. Other Canadian export stations are Winnipeg, Man.; Brantford, Dunnville, Essex, Hamilton, London, Niagara Falls, Petrolia, St. Thomas, Tillamook, Tillamook, Waterford, Welland, Windsor and Ottawa, Ont., and St. John's and Montreal, Que. At all these cities offices of the Railway Express Agency are equipped to handle in and outboard air express shipments under an "airwaybill," a simplified shipping document accepted by the various Latin American countries in lieu of elaborate and tedious documentation previously required.

As examples of the speedy shipping times now possible, air express can reach Mexico City from Vancouver in less than thirty-two hours; Buenos Aires from Windsor, Ont., within eight days, and the British West Indies from Hamilton, Ont., in less than three days.
